ORDER

In October 2004, the Court entered orders in these interrelated cases enforcing IRS summonses. Upon the defendants' failure to comply, orders to show cause why they should not be held in contempt were entered and a hearing was set for March 15, 2005. At the hearing, counsel for the defendants appeared and stated that Mrs. Taylor had been admitted to the hospital that morning. The Court ordered the defendants to submit Mrs. Taylor's medical records to confirm the reason for their failure to appear at the hearing. The show cause hearing was later rescheduled for June 17, 2005.

Following the submission of Mrs. Taylor's medical records, the Court issued an order holding the case against her in abeyance pending medical improvement and ordering counsel to file monthly status reports as to her medical condition. Accordingly, Bernice Taylor is hereby EXCUSED from appearing at the June 17, 2005 hearing. The case against Mr. Taylor, however, has not been held in abeyance; therefore, Ronald K. Taylor is hereby ORDERED to appear at the hearing scheduled for June 17, 2005 and show cause why he should not be held in contempt for failure to obey the Court's order enforcing the IRS summons.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
